Please keep the following in mind when returning products:

- the articles (which is the watch, but not only that: this includes all the goods we delivered including strap and packing materials for instance) may not be used but of course you can fit the watch (but do not adjust the strap);
- the articles are undamaged;
- the articles are including labels and/or stickers which may be attached to it;
- the articles are in their original packing materials including manuals;
- returning products is at your own risk.
